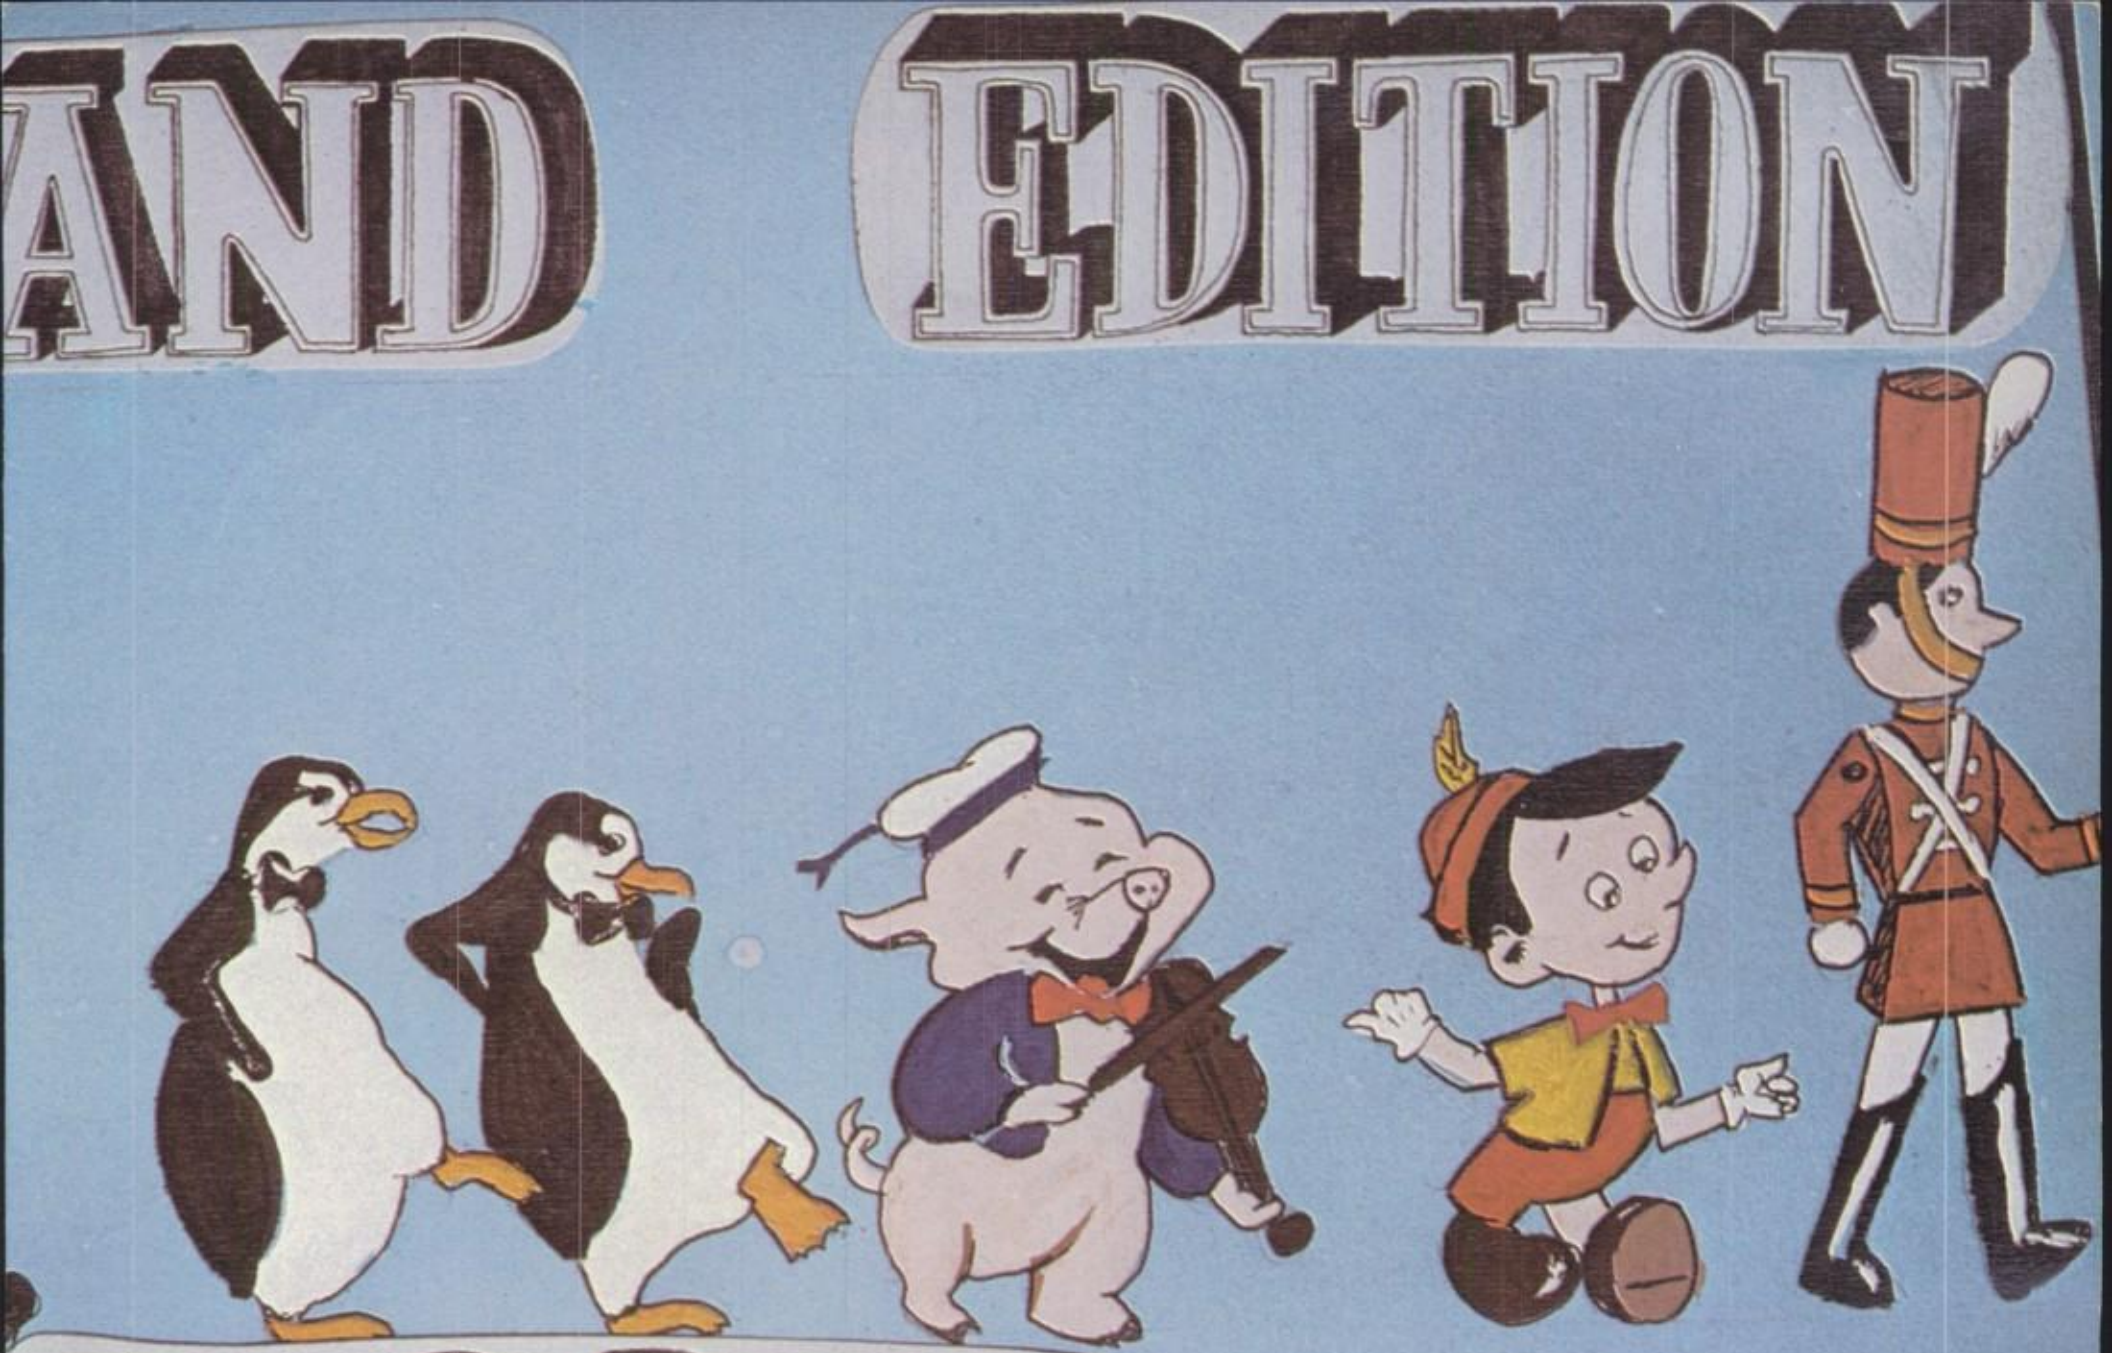
AND EDITION



ROCK

EAST ROCKAWAY HIGH SCHOOL

FALL 1970

Although these pictures represent only a small part of the 1970-1971 school year we feel that they portray the Fall season quite well. From the "smelly" locker room, to the infamous Rock room, to football games, cheerleaders and our crowded stairway, you can get the general idea that during the fall East Rockaway is bursting with activities and fun.

DEDICATION

Dear Mr. Wetherell,

For three years the Class of '71 has worked with you. Through Rock Rivalry, a sweatshirt sale, a candy sale, the prom and the magazine sale, few of us realized how we survived some new disasters. You have been the backbone of our endeavors — working behind the scenes, making phone calls and arranging our sales. From you we received the expert guidance that pulled our class together. We knew that the strong hand which led us would always be there to quietly pick up the pieces and put them back the right way.

We want everyone to know just how much you have meant to us, for whenever we needed it, there was always a shoulder to lean on. For this reason we are dedicating the Disneyland Edition of the Rock to you, Mr. Richard Wetherell, our class advisor.

We thank you, Mr. Wetherell. "Why? Because we like you!"

Sincerely,

The Class of '71

PREFACE

"To all who come to this happy place: welcome! Disneyland is your land. Here age relives fond memories of the past . . . and here youth may savor the challenge and promise of the future."

As the graduating class of 1971, we compare our years in high school with a trip through Disneyland, beginning in Frontierland and ending in a land of tomorrow. With much anxiety, and probably just as much curiosity, we boarded our own Santa Fe train for a trip through vast halls filled with many different people. Little did we know that beyond the classroom doors was hidden more than one way of learning. Traveling through Adventureland and Fantasyland, we discovered that by working together in sports and other activities, we could enrich ourselves to an even higher degree. Now, as we reach the culmination of this small but integral fragment of our lives, we are looking into Tomorrowland with eagerness mixed with a touch of sadness.

We would like to share our journey, so come aboard our train and prepare yourself for an exciting adventure.

Dr. William K. Louis
Superintendent of Schools

DR. WILLIAM K. LOUIS

Many students are unaware of the infinite number of responsibilities which Dr. Louis, the Superintendent of Schools in East Rockaway, is responsible for carrying out. One of his varied jobs, and possibly the one with priority, is to enforce the education laws of our state. In the formation of our school calendar, Dr. Louis implements the state's minimum number of school days and is instrumental in formulating a budget and meets with teachers and parents to iron out any major problems affecting our curriculum.

In world affairs, Dr. Louis is well-versed and very versatile. He is a staunch patriot and stands up for the ideals of our country. We are a fortunate school system to have Dr. Louis' wit and capabilities working toward our betterment. We hope in future years that the following classes will benefit as much as we have from this more-than-able superintendent.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

EAST ROCKAWAY DAD'S CLUB

A fairly new organization in East Rockaway, the Dad's Club is composed of fathers concerned with extra-curricular activities in the high school. In their formative years they concerned themselves primarily with publicizing the various athletic teams and promoting ideas to attract spectators to the games. Within the last couple of years, however, they have expanded their program to include such undertakings as giving sports awards, sponsoring dinners for our athletes, having a dinner for seniors who have been active in extra-curricular activities, awarding cheering trophies to cheerleaders, susidizing buses for games, buying groups of tickets for annual productions like the dramatics club play and senior play, running the Dad's Club picnic, and generally supporting all of our school activities.

The Dad's Club has become a very important part of East Rockaway and we hope it will continue to be as strong a driving force for our students in the future as it has been in the past. They are truly deserving of Special Thanks.

PARENT TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

This year the Class of '71 would like to thank the Parent Teachers Association. Because the PTA is so often taken for granted, many students don't realize how greatly they benefit from such an organization. The PTA supports the Stratford Trip, Rock Rivalry Journal, scholarships, senior banquets, and senior day. This year we would like to especially thank them for the Scholarship Fund Drive Banner which has become a new addition to our school.

(l. to r.) row 1. Joe Dragone, Marion Coulon, Regina Brown, Cora Doherty. row 2. Marilyn Kantor, Martha Yosein, Jean Brown, Winifred Weiss.

ADMINISTRATORS

Mr. Robert D. Morse

The Mickey Mouse of East Rockaway, that popular fellow who cares for everyone and whom everyone greatly admires, is our own Mr. Morse. Like Mickey you can always find him actively involved in almost every capacity . . . stopwatching a track meet, cheering on the spirit at football and baseball games, spectating at basketball games, or raising new and challenging ideas to the Student Council. Most often he is found diligently working behind his desk.

You may not guess it but both these fellows have a great talent for listening to suggestions. Although Mickey seems to have an unfair advantage of big ears, Mr. Morse's enthusiasm to succeed with the students' desires counterbalances this. How is it that Mr. Morse knew the seniors were interested in a lounge all their own? It surely wasn't by ignoring the students.

Walt Disney instilled in all his characters the extraordinary trait of making people happy. The mini-courses, endorsed by Mr. Morse, have given the seniors an enjoyable chance to explore a wide variety of topics. Many seniors are happy with the addition of such courses as psychology, sociology, and ecology which were added under the guidance of Mr. Morse.

Technically both Mickey and Mr. Morse are on the other side of the generation gap; however, the Class of '71 has not found this a block in our relationship with Mr. Morse. Like Mickey, he has found the formula for understanding today's adolescent.

We wish him the longevity of Mickey, knowing that East Rockaway students will reap the rewards for years to come.

Mr. Douglas Sackman

After a quarter of a century of faithful service to East Rockaway High School, Mr. Sackman is still working overtime at his many indispensable activities. As Director of Pupil Personnel Services he made certain that all of us received all the benefits of school life. Besides acting as general assistant to the principal, he also has been an able advisor to the Key Club for many years.

Unfortunately, just as WE will be doing in June, so will Mr. Sackman be leaving the school.

We thank him for many years of service to the school.

Mr. Henry Freund

Although this job is unappealing to many people, the Dean of Students is necessary in order to keep discipline in a high school. The Dean must contend with the mundane job of giving detention and such delicate tasks as dealing with the diversified personalities of the pathological cutter, the incessant latecomer and the "is he a boy or girl" type. It requires tact, understanding and being the kind of person the students can respect. East Rockaway has been lucky for the past four years to have Mr. Henry Freund, a man who displays all these qualities and more, for their Dean of Students.

East Rockaway High School
East Rockaway, New York

Dear Seniors:

The decade of the 60's was fraught with assassinations, war, revolts, increased crime and a general challenging of values that have stood for years as guidelines for our political, social and economic systems.

As we enter the 70's it seems to me that one of our greatest threats is the polarization of so many segments of our society. So many groups and individuals seem to have become islands unto themselves with little respect or regard for someone else's point of view.

The challenge to young people to-day is to end the violence and unite our people again. You showed your concern in the 60's. Show us your accomplishments in the 70's!

Sincerely,

Robert D. Morse

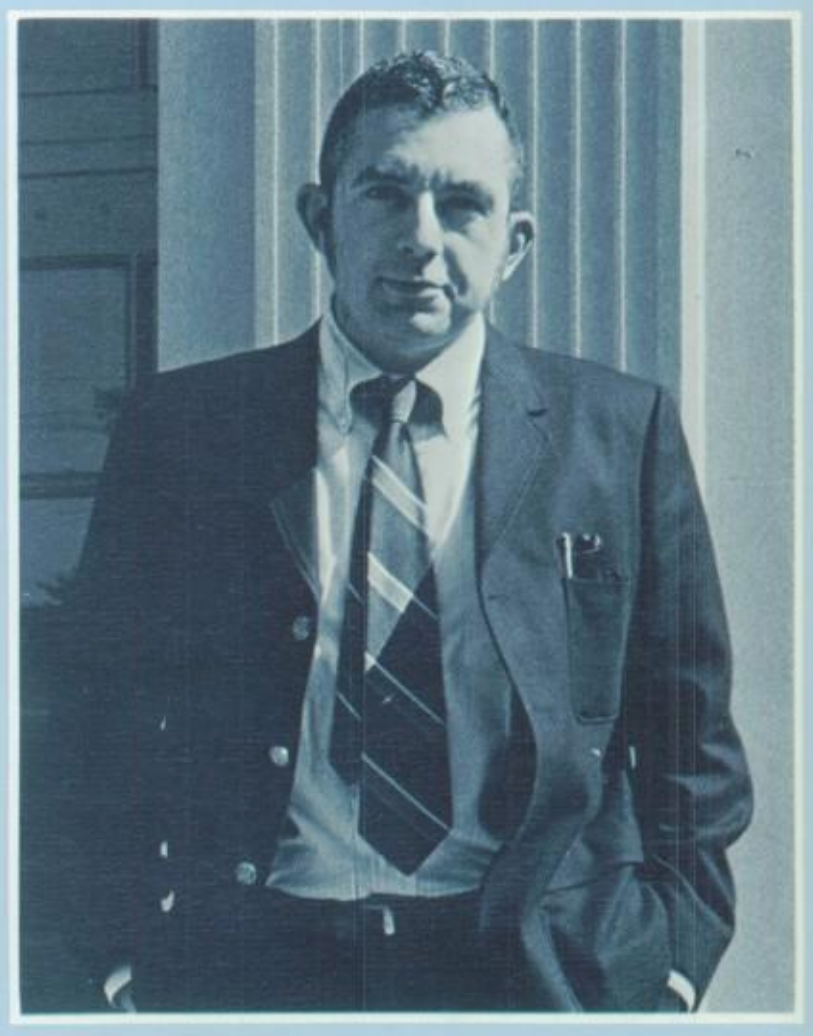
SPECIAL THANKS

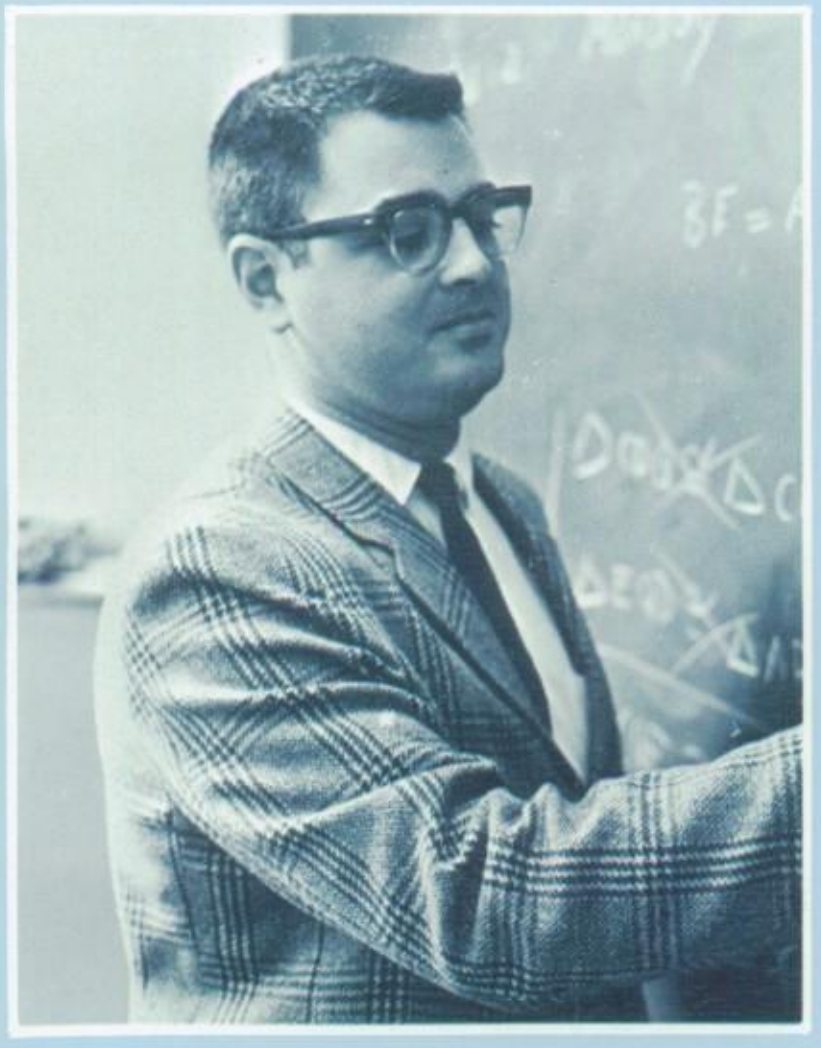
In beginning our final year at East Rockaway, we were faced with the demanding but gratifying task of producing a yearbook.

As we undertook the literary difficulties of a yearbook, we sought encouragement and guidance and found them both in Mr. Martin Severino. We can't begin to count the endless number of times he rescued us from "unsolvable" problems and the times when our imaginations ran dry. He was always there with a helping hand, a new idea or two, and a vast amount of patience.

For guiding our steps wisely, advising, listening, worrying and caring, the class of '71 expresses its warm appreciation to Mr. Severino.



Mr. Martin Severino



Mr. Joseph Vallone

As we entered the ninth grade our class witnessed much confusion and unawareness. We were "bigger" than the seventh and eighth graders — but still a bit in awe of our upperclassmen. As a young class, on the outskirts of Frontierland, but not quite ready for Adventureland or Fantasyland, we needed guidance and understanding. Now, as seniors, we wish to thank Mr. Vallone, our former class advisor, for giving us the quiet leadership we so desperately wanted and needed. We wish him the best of luck in all his future endeavors and appreciate the memories he left behind.

Walt Disney was the mainstay of the Disney Corporation. He made sure that things were properly carried out and that his enchanting characters, such as Mickey Mouse and Pluto pup, were enjoyed by all. This same motivation is instilled in the mainstay of East Rockaway High, the Student Council. This year the Student Council's work has been felt by all facets of our school. The Student Council was very involved with the Rock Rally Dance to raise money for a soda machine, the Senior Lounge, and the selling of seasons passes. They should also be thanked for the establishment of the beneficial rap sessions. Someone had to establish rules for all of Disney's characters and the Student Council has tried this year to be as fair to East Rockaway students as possible. They formed committees to solve such problems as the marking system. Energetic members of the Student Council met with the administration to try to help East Rockaway over it's obstacles.

When Pluto pup stands on two legs, he is a head above the other characters, and so are our Student Council members for being so devoted to our school.

PEP SQUAD

Donald Duck's three nephews are always getting involved in school activities and never seem to run out of energy. Donald is glad when they go off to school; he can sit down and relax. Meanwhile, his nephews are busily helping arouse school spirit.

They tried many a brainstorm to raise money, including the sale of booster bells and stickers with the football schedule on the back of them. Success came from a cake sale held during the ninth period in the auditorium rotunda.

During the games they tried hard to made it a season of spirit and victory. Signs were placed representing each player on their home-room windows. More signs were made at an attempt to liven up the halls. Most of all, they screamed with all their might in the stands during the games, showing that they were behind the Rocks all the way.

Donald is proud of his nephews. They are always helping. Wait! Huey, Duey, and Louey couldn't possibly be doing these great jobs by themselves! Their fellow classmates have joined with them through the Pep Squad.

The Pep Squad, which is comprised of about 40 girls in grades 9-12; has given a lot of time and effort to work for a successful and eventful year. Girls?? No wonder those rascals are so busy!

K. McKay — President, Mrs. Van Dolson — Advisor, F. Dombeck — Treasurer.

HI-Y

The seven dwarfs whistled as they worked. Cheerfully, they helped Snow White in any way they could. Nothing was too big for them.

East Rockaway has its own group of concerned girls. No task is too large for the selected girls of the Hi-Y. This group is determined to give special service to their homes, school and community. Each year the girls sponsor a dance donating its earnings to the community and collect for the Cerebral Palsy Fund. Babysitting for the blood bank and decorating the Christmas tree are just a few other activities sponsored by the Hi-Y.

This year the Hi-Y has experimented with a few new ideas, for example: a ski trip, adopting a family at Christmas, and combining with the Key Club to raise funds for UNICEF.

The enthusiastic attitudes of the girls in the Hi-Y have made this club an asset to our school. "Sharing" is the song they whistle.

KEY CLUB

In the fable "The Grasshopper and the Ants", a humanitarian act was performed when the ants took in the cold, foolhardy grasshopper who pleaded for help. These ants shared the fruits of their labor with him.

The same humanitarianism is performed by the Key Club of East Rockaway. This year, the club, along with Hi-Y, collected gum wrappers which were given to UNICEF, who redeemed them to help the children of the world.

The Key Club Stockshop was opened to supply pens, notebooks, and review books to students. They also started work on fixing the student parking lot and a calendar of school events.

Like the ants, they collected clothing for the needy and collected for the Heart Fund, showing that someone really cares. Supported by the students, the Key Club has performed better services in the name of East Rockaway.

We all remember the exciting adventures of the "Mouseketeers" on television. Although our Dramatics Club is not an extension of the Mickey Mouse Club, it too, furthers interest in the performing arts through its available talent. Professionalism is evident from The Diary of Anne Frank through to this year's Come Blow Your Horn.

Besides being responsible for excellent plays the Dramatics Club familiarizes members with the theatrical arts through the promotion of discount tickets, a speaker program, and through the Theatre Development Fund. One of the trips the Dramatics Club scheduled was a trip to see CONDUCT UNBECOMING over Christmas vacation.

The "Mouseketteers" had Uncle Bob as their leader, and the Dramatics Club is lead faithfully by "Uncle Marty", Mr. Martin Severino.

East Rockaway thanks the Dramatics Club and Mr. Severino for their fine work in bringing a "bit of Broadway" to our town.

Jiminey Cricket is a wise character, always full of knowledge and philosophy. Do you know where he obtained the wisdom he now spouts? Books! Books are the greatest source of knowledge. Where are books? They are everywhere, especially in our own school library.

With all the wise people like Mr. Cricket, these books need constant care. Our Library Council has devoted it's time to help keep the books in top shape.

The unselfish members of this service club spend extra time in the library, shelving the books in their proper place, and writing notices to forgetful students. They dust our library shelves and celebrate all occasions with colorfully designed bulletin boards.

The Library Council has grown to large proportions the past two years, due to the leadership of the advisor, Miss Trapnell.

"Thank you" is too weak to thank the Library Council for a job well done. So, instead, show your gratitude by taking out a bit of knowledge, a book!

FRENCH HONOR SOCIETY

As an extension of the French Club, the French Honor Society is designed to give the students who are deeply interested in French a better idea of French culture and customs. The requirements for this society are a B+ average in French and an open, inquisitive mind.

With Mrs. Bryant, our own "Duchess" as advisor, the French Honor Society has enjoyed another rewarding year.

SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY

Jose Carioca starred in a Disney film The Three Caballeros quite some time ago. Our Spanish Honor Society numbers more than three Caballeros. However, it was originated to give the fourth and fifth year Spanish students the opportunity to learn more about the language and to be able to speak it more fluently.

They enhance their studies of the language and Spanish speaking countries by taking trips to plays and a Spanish restaurant.

FRENCH CLUB

In Walt Disney's latest release, The Aristocats, Duchess gives her three kittens a tour of Paris. Although the same thing can't be done here the French Club is designed to increase interest in the French language and certain cultural aspects of France.

Each year the club travels to a cultural French happening to improve their understanding of France and its people. Evident in their enthusiasm, our French "étudiants" believe most vigorously in "Vive la France!"

MATH HONOR SOCIETY

The Math Honor Society, composed of seniors and juniors who have completed Math 11 and who have displayed an unusual interest and ability in math, has been revived.

Mr. Dragone, our own "Ludwig Von Drake", has ably advised the Math Honor Society on topics in advanced Mathematics that will be helpful in freshman college math courses.

THE GULL

S. Seidner — Assistant Editor, D. Levinson — Editor-in-Chief.

Mr. McAnulla — Advisor

Just as Disney films are the voice of many young children today, the 1970-71 Gull is the voice of some nine hundred young people in East Rockaway High. The eight issues which were printed contained features different from the previous year, as the goal was directed towards improvement.

All those who contributed to the paper, did so in the interest of communication with the majority of the student body, in terms of school activity and personal interest information, and personal opinion — three ingredients essential for their ideal.

The Gull staff worked in close cooperation with their own Geppetto, Mr. Charles McAnulla, during his first year as the advisor. Together they surmounted the many obstacles which confronted them (as every school newspaper) in the search for good journalism in East Rockaway. The results were rewarding for all concerned.

"Higher Cinderella, higher," chanted Minnie Mouse running around the gym with her oversized track shoes. "Sleeping Beauty, can't you possibly keep up with us? One-two-three-four! Class — halt!"

Actually, this is not a group of Disney characters running around the gym; it is a group called Rho Gamma. Rho Gamma is representative of the more athletically inclined girls at the Rock Pile. These girls cheerfully, (yes, cheerfully!), aid the physical education teachers by leading classes. Led by Miss "Fearless" Faucher, the Rho Gamma girls participated in many other activities such as their memorable camping trip, numerous cake sales and the selling of East Rockaway sweatshirts. Trying to improve the relationship between the students and the faculty, they hosted a volleyball game.

"O.K., girls, back in line."

Goofy's no goof. Even HE realizes the importance of keeping physically fit as does the gym leader corps, a group of senior high boys who show abilities in leadership, scholarship and athletics. Chosen through the careful selection of their advisor, Mr. George Faulkner, the leader corps helps their school by leading gym classes, delivering newsletters for the Board of Education, and generally helping out at all athletic functions in the school.

To reward these boys for their work, and to let out some of their well-known energies, there is an annual trek to Madison Square Garden and Shea Stadium.

The Sorcerer's Apprentice had magic to contend with, but there is no magic in trying to solve the pollution problem.

Last year a group of students formed a committee to make the community more aware of the pollution problem in East Rockaway. These students call themselves SAP (Students Against Pollution).

In accordance with their aim, the officers of SAP and their advisor, Mr. Lander, attended a seminar at Hofstra University where they heard and discussed many problems connected with pollution and what could be done to improve the environment.

These students have tried to make East Rockaway aware of the pollution problem in the town by holding a paper and aluminum can drive.

As if our own Disney characters were out there on the court the basketball team of the 1970-1971 season is not one that will easily be forgotten. Although they didn't win many games these boys gave East Rockaway a season of exciting games. With Barry Mello, one of the top scorers in the county, and other seniors, Bradley (Babs) Balkam, Richard (Oscar) Randazzo, Bob (Trash) Allen, Kevin (Cuddles) Brown and Bobby (Duffy) Dyer they had a year of good basketball.

Contributing to the excitement were Barry's high score of 34 points and Bradley's high of 31 points. Not only seniors were on this team, we can't forget the exciting performances of Ricky Mayell, Mike Sicignano, Eddie Serecchia, Randy Pappas and up-and-coming sophomore Billy Kienke.

The cheerleaders might not have cheered them on to victory in league, but they were certainly cheered on to self satisfaction in the game of basketball.

If all the birds and animals of the Enchanted Forest gathered together we would never have the melodic music of the Senior Chorus.

Under the direction of Mr. House the voice of our students raise in song. Whether a classical Hondel work or a popular Bacharach song, the Chorus is greatly appreciated during the Winter and Spring concerts for their interpretation of vocal music.

The Walt Disney Hall of Fame, alias The National Honor Society, honored new "starlets" this year, based on their leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

We have every confidence that these fine upstanding young people will venture forth into the world spreading wisdom trust and love among men. These scholarly young citizens of laudable moral fibre will lead us into a universal Utopia. They will render their highest services to our public's needs and they will dwell in the Hall of Fame forever.

Weekly conferences will be held every Sunday evening on channel 4 at 7:30 to keep us abreast of their latest accomplishments.

presents

"THIS MAGIC MOMENT"

THE FIFTH OF JUNE
NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVENTY

CAPRI BEACH CLUB

Between the covers is the hard work of an Editor-in-Chief, two Assistant Editors, seven editors, two advisors and numerous staff members. Although we had our problems overcoming many obstacles that we faced, we are proud of our accomplishments.

Disneyland is a never ending project. New ideas and developments are constantly being added to the already wonderful collection. How well this can be applied to the production of a yearbook each year. Our yearbook is only one idea in a sea of millions, but its meaning will call you back again and again.

A yearbook is not written only by the Editor-in-Chief and the assistants. The contributions of the editors and staff members have aided in making our yearbook one to be proud of. Special thanks are given to Peggy Cole and Joyce Frerk for the help in the financing of our yearbook and to Kevin Brown for his willingness to perform any number of tasks without being told.

Putting into words what these past ten months have meant to us is something near the impossible. The 1971 ROCK is more than pages in a book and words on a page; it is the result of much hard work. We started our yearbook knowing (or hoping) that we could do anything and found out that we had to make do with the resources on hand.

Our problems were — well — MANY. Being new at our job with our two, also new, advisors, Mr. Richard Wetherell and Mr. Martin Severino, we all survived of the most trying but fulfilling years of our lives. If you were to pass by the open Rock room door and use your imagination you would see a yearbook editor and two assistants trying to crop pictures with the cropper they never received, searching for names to unknown faces, waiting for Senior write-ups to be typed, and looking totally frustrated. What was it all for? It was only for the self satisfaction of presenting the 1971 Disneyland Edition of the Rock to you.

"Disneyland is dedicated to the ideals, the dreams and the hard facts which have created America . . . with the hope that it will be a source of joy and inspiration to all the world." This saying is inscribed on the dedication plaque for the Magic Kingdom in Disneyland. We hope that by now you have realized that this saying is the backbone of our yearbook. We have tried to put together a book of memories which are associated with our six years at East Rockaway High School. We also hope that you can and will look through this yearbook with a smile on your face and laughter in your heart because it was a source of joy to the reader.
